2.1

To the Indiana boy and girl, representatives of American youth, we dedicate this Thirtieth Volume of the OAK. Their courage, their vigor, their desire to carry on as real Americans makes this dedication more than justified.

A TRIBUTE

THROUGH this pictorial edition, the editors have endeavored to mark with tangible evidence the work and play that has been yours at Indiana. From the classrooms, the dance, the game, the concert, the corner has come realistic testimony of these activities. If you may look back years hence and live again, through this Oak, those hours spent at Indiana, the editors will know a certain sense of accomplishment.

IN THIS BOOK

From cover to cover the editors have attempted to offer a cross-section of campus life as it has appeared throughout the past year. The first book, COLLEGE, includes Administration, Faculty, Seniors, and Underclassmen. In the FRATERNITIES section can be found both Honorary and Professional and the Social groups. Student Administration, Organizations, Publications, Stage, Music, and Campus are featured in the ACTIVITIES division. The final book, ATHLETICS, combines Athletic Administration, Varsity Sports, and Intramural Sports.

DR. LEROY A. KING

PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE

In the short time that Dr. Leroy A. King has served as President of Indiana State Teachers College he has endeared himself to students and faculty alike.

Dr. King received his degree of doctor of Philosophy while teaching at the University of Pennsylvania in 1920. Throughout his many years in the field of education he has held several offices in state as well as local educational associations.

His influence is markedly shown in Indiana's constant improvement.

TO THE SENIORS...

Four student years at Indiana are now a vitally significant part of your experience. This college has given you some of the tools necessary for a happy, useful life. Indiana's ideals of democratic co-operation, fair play, high purpose, and professional integrity are surely part of your own equipment as citizens and teachers in the Commonwealth. It is now your great privilege to use the best that you have gained here in helping to solve the problems of a world that can not and must not go backward.

SUPERVISING STUDENT LIFE ON THE CAMPUS

Florence B. Kimball is now in her third year of service at Indiana as Dean of Women. She now has approximately one thousand women under her guidance.

Walter M. Whitmyre has been with Indiana for more than two decades. He acts as Dean of Men in addition to heading the Social Studies Department.

Both Deans collaborated in the teaching of Freshman orientation classes the past year.

WALTER M. WHITMYRE

Dean of Instruction Matthew J. Walsh is known by students for his interest and willingness to assist in the solving of student problems.

Probably the first person freshmen meet at Indiana is Mary L. Esch. She has charge of all school records other than finance.

William Schuster and his Staff handle all college financial matters. In addition, he supervises campus organization funds other than those of the Student Co-operative.

Besides his work as Director of Personnel, Paul Boyts works on extra-curricular activities, student employment, athletics, and publicity.

With the completion of the Laboratory School greater opportunities for student teaching on the campus are offered.

Dr. Uhler, Director of Teacher Education, now has under his supervision elementary and junior high school student teachers.

Demonstration teaching, a new gym, and the addition of the tenth grade have all aided in establishing a more efficient Laboratory School.

Mr. Davis, Director of the Laboratory School, coordinates the school with the program of student teaching, demonstration, and observation.

Director of Department

Seated: Dunlap, Borge, Lowman, Cheyette, Prutzman, Remsberg
Standing: Hughes, Stitt, Muldowney, Remley, Reed, Bealor

A music teacher must have more than a knowledge of music. He should have a broad educational outlook. In order to meet these specifications set up by superintendents, this Department's curriculum is kept flexible so as to be able to meet the changes in the field.

Indiana's graduates are well prepared because of the excellent faculty and superior equipment. Periodic student recitals, broadcasts, and special music programs play an important part in this Department's work.

HOME ECONOMICS

This Department recognizes the relationship between life in the home and our ultimate social progress. The National Preparedness policy of fortifying the American home first was integrated in nutrition and consumer education classes recently introduced. These were conducted by the Department in cooperation with county educational groups.

Special credit is given to the girls of this Department who operated the new cafeteria and who assisted with local welfare projects throughout the year.

ART EDUCATION

MARY EDNA FLEGAL

Highly successful graduates reflect the Art Department's thorough training. The Art faculty consists of eight teachers of wide and varied experience in both education and fine arts. Housing in the main floor of the Arts Building with up-to-date equipment lends an atmosphere conducive to fine work. An art-structure method of creative expression emphasizes development and thinking rather than skills. Radio broadcasts and a movie in color of the Department's major activities were innovations in 1941.

Cooperation between the college and the Laboratory School has expanded this year. A department of foreign languages was added, and French and Spanish were taught. French was also made available in the Laboratory School.

Additional space for the science department on the first floor of Leonard Hall allowed more laboratory classes to be offered.

Approximately forty people were graduated from the Division's new pilot-training course this year. This is being sponsored by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

The function of the Elementary Division is the preparation of teachers for kindergarten, primary, intermediate, and rural school positions.

This Division has a broad course of study which makes invaluable contributions to the knowledges, skills, and cultures that are essential for happy, intelligent, efficient citizenship. Techniques for imparting these knowledges are carefully developed.

Indiana has an enviable reputation because of the efficiency of its elementary teachers in service.

English

The English Department is steadily working on the improvement of standards of language usage.

The introduction of double periods of composition in order to use the laboratory method of teaching writing was an innovation. Increased individual attention helped students who showed a desire to help themselves.

Geography

The Geography Department has developed three major lines of endeavors recently. It has taken over a portion of the ground school for the aviation course. Mr. Davis has enlarged his field work to include South America and Miss Zink has made an intensive study of current geography curriculum.

MATHEMATICS • EDUCATION

Mathematics

The aim and purpose of the Mathematics Department is to prepare well-trained teachers to enter the mathematics field. To that end courses are provided in pure mathematics for students majoring in the subject and in techniques of teaching mathematics for both elementary and secondary students.

Education

The main feature which distinguishes Indiana from other non-professional schools is its Education Department. This is the only department that serves every other department directly. Subjects such as Psychology and Place and Purpose of Education in the Social Order are handled by the Education Department.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION • SCIENCE

*Seated: Griffith; Hamblen; Ellenberger; McDevitt; Snell
Standing: Timmons; Miller. Head of Department*

Physical Education

To the varied list of activities of the Physical Education Department varsity track has been added this year. Two replacements occurred in the faculty. Greater stress and more interest in football was also evident. As in previous years individual and community health was emphasized in hygiene classes.

Science

An increase in the enrollment of the Department's classes necessitated the addition of new laboratories. With this expansion on the first floor of Leonard Hall classes are now operated on a full laboratory basis. This Department also has the distinction of at sometime serving the entire student body.

Library

When students enter North Gate next Fall they will see a newly remodeled building, The College Library in Wilson Hall.

There will be three floors with well-lighted reading rooms and ample space for study and leisure reading. Expansion was necessary because of the constantly increasing enrollment at Indiana.

Social Studies

The imparting to students of knowledges, appreciations, and interests required for living effectively in a society of increasing interdependence was the keynote of instruction this year. The Social Studies Department at Indiana aims to produce well-qualified teachers who will carry this knowledge to their students.

SENIORS SAGA...

In a few days almost three hundred Seniors will garb themselves in cap and gown and receive the highest honor given any student at Indiana. During their four-year stay on the campus these persons, through their studies and activities, have changed from mere adolescents to men and women ready to take their places in the field they have chosen.

Four years ago a group of naive, awestricken Freshmen wandered about the campus, soon to delight in the enthusiasm of their first prom. As Sophomores they began to try their wings and to merit inclusion in almost every activity on campus. Cultivated suavity, carefree attitude, and pronounced activity indicated that the group had become the Junior class, as much at ease in the ballroom as in the accustomed classroom. As Seniors the class awoke to the realization that outings, proms, and pleasant associations would soon be memories and that they would become members of that great body—the Alumni.

COMMENCEMENT . . .

AN EPOCH IN THE LIFE OF A SENIOR

The faint strains of an academic march usher the column of seniors across the campus to the commencement ceremonies where the hopes and aspirations of four years are culminated. With the speakers challenge comes the realization that the thoughtful care and guidance of the administration and the faculty will be but a memory. The parting of the way has come, and when the cherished diploma is carried away the student takes so much more than he brought.

Starting its third year of college life, the class of 1942 began to show a narrowing down to students who have an interest in the teaching profession. As Freshmen, the class had an enrollment of 495; as Sophomores, 389; its present status shows 326 students.

Participation in campus affairs has given the individual members insight into future social and educational activities. The first meeting of the year was called for the purpose of organizing the class in order to carry on the activities planned for the year.

This year's officers, under the sponsorship of Mr. L. H. Schnell, were: Donald Frischmann, President; Walter Kipp, Vice-President; Jane Evans, Secretary; Samuel Hogue, Treasurer; Robert Swanson, Assistant Treasurer.

The Junior Spring Dance, held on March 22, 1941 in Recreation Hall, proved to be the most popular activity.

It is the aim of the Class of '43 to increase annually its value to Indiana State Teachers College. Looking back over the past year it has a right to be proud for this term it has again been successful.

The class elected as its officers Wayne Scott, President; Francis Patt, Vice-President; Paul Beckley, Treasurer; and Barbara Rifembary, Secretary. Student Council representatives were Jane Lewis, Robert McGrew, and Russell Santangelo.

Enthusiasm shown by the Class was the chief factor in making the Sophomore Prom a very enjoyable occasion. It was held in Recreation Hall on December 7, 1940. Cecil Golly and his Orchestra furnished both the music and the entertainment for the event. Committee heads were invitation, Theda Crissman; program, Jack Ritter; music, Ruth Englehart; refreshment, Rhoda Hunter; publicity, Francis Patt; decoration, Murray Varner, and reception, Wayne Scott.

Last September four hundred and fifty freshmen strolled upon the Indiana campus. Slightly awestricken they gazed about at fellow classmates and sophisticated upperclassmen, at the campus that since has grown familiar and loved, at the faculty who have come to be admired and respected.

With the bustle and confusion of registration over, schedules were memorized and classes began to assume that faintly monotonous air of regularity; the confused blur of foreign faces slowly catalogued itself into distinct personalities. Realization came upon these people that they are a group—a large and important group—the Class of 1944.

As such they began to assert themselves. Meeting for the first time, they are introduced to and directed by their sponsor, Inez Buchanan. To find suitable officers for the class, the group selected a nominating committee composed of one representative from each department. With candidates presented, ballots were cast and the results awaited.

Following the election plans for the Freshman Prom were formulated and on the fifteenth of February the freshmen enjoyed the fruits of their labor in Recreation Hall to music supplied by Johnnie Mac and his Orchestra.

From the Freshman Class have come outstanding participants in the college activities and functions. The football, basketball, boxing, and wrestling squads were all augmented by the presence of freshman athletes; both Penn and Oak staffs contained names of many freshmen; scholastic achievements were particularly outstanding among freshman students.

As the school year closes registration day with all its confusion seems very far away. When this year's class reappears on campus, they will be upperclassmen ready to participate even more freely in campus affairs. Indiana will be no longer new and strange to them.

Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, was incorporated at the University of Illinois in 1911. Its purpose is "to encourage outstanding contributions to education."

Members of Kappa Delta Pi are selected for their scholarship, leadership, and other desirable personal qualities. To be elected to membership in Kappa Delta Pi is the greatest honor that can come to any student at Indiana.

During the year Beta Gamma Chapter has been active on the Indiana campus. The breakfast meeting in the fall in honor of Dr. William H. Kilpatrick, leading educator and laureate member of Kappa Delta Pi, excellent monthly meetings, and the ever great Alumni Banquet made the year a truly successful one.

A national honorary journalistic fraternity, Alpha Phi Gamma is established for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the college through the recognition of individual ability and achievement in the field of journalism. A high scholastic standard and participation in college publications are qualifications for membership.

During the year the members made critical studies of projects which pledges submitted as prerequisites to the formal initiation.

In the Spring this year the fraternity revived its traditional April Fool's Day edition, The In'diana Inkk.

Included in the membership this year were the present editors of the Penn and the Oak, and two former editors of the latter.

Gamma Rho Tau is a national honorary and professional business education fraternity for men. Only teachers in business education and future teachers in business education who have completed one-half of a four-year course toward a bachelor's degree are eligible to become members of this fraternity.

Gamma Rho Tau proposes to bring together men engaged in commercial teaching to discuss their problems with greater ease and thoroughness in a fraternal spirit.

Beta Chapter of Gamma Rho Tau was organized at Indiana on January 4, 1929. Other chapters are found at the University of Southern California, at Syracuse University, and at the University of Washington.

Kappa Chapter of Pi Omega Pi started the year off with the initiation of new members. In November Pi Omega Pi and Gamma Rho Tau held their annual joint banquet at Rustic Lodge.

Among the varied professional meetings was included a discussion of professional standards by one of the alumni.

In keeping with the precedent set by last year's members, the election and installation of officers took place in the early part of December.

The main social function in the spring consisted of the annual Pi Omega Pi outing at the school lodge. The pledging of eligibles also took place at this time of the year.

At their first meeting of the year the members of Alpha Omega entertained the geography majors and minors at an outing at the School Lodge. In the fall five new eligibles were pledged, and at the presentation of their project they were initiated in January. The honorary geography organization at Slippery Rock entertained the group with a program and dinner in March, and in April the group visited the Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh.

Alpha Omega is an honorary geography organization; a minimum of 12 hours and a B average are required for membership, as well as a special project approved by the group.

The activities of Tau Chapter of Kappa Omicron Phi, honorary and professional sorority for Home Economics students, opened September 28 with the initiation of former F. N. A. members. A formal dinner at the Indiana Hotel followed the pledging of eleven girls. A joint Christmas and Founder's Day party, December 10, concluded the first semester.

The social functions of the second semester were a "Fix-It-Yourself Dinner" for pledges and initiates, a formal farewell dinner for seniors, and a spring outing given by three patronesses, Miss Brenneman, Mrs. Merriman, and Mrs. Sollberger.

Professional meetings were held with contributions by faculty, students, and outside speakers.

The Panhellenic Association, which literally means embracing all Greeks, does just as the name implies—serves to bind together all sororities on the campus. It is composed of two representatives from each sorority.

The initial social function of the year was the Panhellenic Tea, which brought the freshman girls into closer contact with the sorority girls.

With the holiday season came the most gala affair, the Panhellenic Christmas Dance. On this occasion Paul Hickson and his Washington and Jefferson College band created the terpsichorean atmosphere in true festive style.

During the year the Panhellenic Association contributed to two outside groups, the Tuberculosis and the Community Funds.

The Interfraternity Council consists of ten men: the Dean of Men who acts as chairman; the presidents and sponsors of Phi Sigma Pi, Phi Alpha Zeta, and Sigma Tau Gamma; and one special representative from each.

Membership qualifications, pledging regulations, rush parties, professional meetings, house residence rules, and interpretation of the articles of agreement comprise a few of the problems that come under the jurisdiction of the Council. The three fraternities are required to conform with any decisions made by the Council.

Under the sponsorship of the Council the Interfraternity Dance is held annually during Thanksgiving vacation. Only fraternity men are eligible to attend this function.

ALPHA GAMMA

Alpha Sigma Alpha, a social-professional sorority, was founded at Farmville, Virginia, in 1901. Since then the sorority has grown to include twenty-five chapters. The local unit, Alpha Gamma, was the third to be established and has been particularly active since 1928 when it was reinstated on the Indiana campus.

This season proved to be a busy one for the Alpha Sigs. After the initiation of new members an exciting rushing season period began. The members entertained freshmen guests at a gay ranch party and later in the year at a gala dinner-dance. Eight girls represented Alpha Gamma at the Cleveland Regional Convention and returned with many clever ideas of benefit to the group. The girls enjoyed many activities together, such as a theatre party in Pittsburgh, breakfast hikes, and many other informal events. The Panhellenic Dance at Christmas, the Alumnae Luncheon in Pittsburgh, and the Founder's Day Luncheon were highlights on the social program.

The year has been a red-letter one for Pi Chapter of Theta Sigma Upsilon. Probably the most impressive event of the year was the visit of the sorority's national president, Mrs. Muriel Frehsee, who was on an inspection tour of the sorority's fifteen chapters scattered over the United States.

On the first semester's calendar of social activities was a professional meeting at which Mrs. Grace Houston Biamonte spoke on Art in the Home. Freshmen guests were entertained at a gay and colorful Studio Party. After-dinner coffee was served at Mrs. Watson's. There was a Christmas Party at Mrs. Davis' home and a banquet was held at the Indiana Country Club for the Thetas and their escorts attending the Panhellenic Dance.

The second semester brought the formal rush party, the celebration of Courtesy Day, Founder's Day, and pledging and initiation of the freshmen. The Mother Patroness Tea and the Senior Farewell ended the busy year.

LAMBDA

Sigma Sigma Sigma, a national educational sorority in teacher-training, was founded at Farmville, Virginia, in 1898. Choosing the open motto, A Sigma—'Faithful Unto Death,' and having as its purpose to build character and to stimulate high endeavor, its founders created high ideals and standards. This credo has been accepted by the thirty-two chapters scattered throughout the United States.

Many different kinds of Tri Sigma activities combine to give an animate description of Lambda Chapter.

DELTA

During the year '40 and '41 the Tau's have completed an interesting schedule of activities. With patronesses and alumnae as guests, the members of the Delta chapter observed Founder's Day tradition at a banquet at College Inn on November 2. At a breakfast later in the month new members received the silver anchors by which Tau girls are recognized on campus. Early in December, in answer to coconut invitations, twenty freshmen accepted the challenge to be shipwrecked in the South Sea Islands for the sorority's informal rush party.

Following Christmas activities, the annual patronesses' tea was held in the Activities Cottage, and the freshmen were again entertained at a formal party. March brought new pledges, and April, the inevitable Black Friday with much hilarity at the expense of the new girls. In May the girls entertained their mother's at a tea, and brought their year to a close with a farewell party for the ten seniors.

The thirty-third year of fraternalism at Indiana has just slipped by for the brothers of Phi Alpha Zeta. Quite as the history of any organization should read, the fraternity has enjoyed one of the best years it has ever known.

Change and improvement, always inevitable and welcome in any living and growing group, was witnessed and experienced during the year. However, one phase of Phi Alpha Zeta-ism that underwent no change was the group's high standards and purposes set up many years ago. Good fellowship, fraternalism, character, and scholastic endeavor are still getting their share of attention along with the advancement of the group as a fraternal organization and the betterment of the individuals as well-rounded personages.

LOOKING BACK...

Phi Alpha Zeta was host to one of the largest alumni gatherings on Homecoming Day that it has ever entertained. The house was a busy place all day with the brothers renewing old ties and making new ones.

Among the social events on the fraternity's calendar were the Interfraternity Dance, the house parties, and the professional meetings. Many enjoyable hours were also spent around the ping-pong table, the pool table, the fireplace, and in any corner suitable for a bull session.

The year's activities culminated in the rushing season. A smoker was held for the underclassmen at the house shortly before pledging.

Graduation will erase from the record of active members a number of Phi Alphas who will be missed next year but not forgotten for years to come.

Just off the northeast corner of the Indiana campus stands a buff-brick house. A sign in the form of a shield and helmet surmounted by three Greek Letters proclaim that this is the home of Pi Chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma. This Chapter was originally organized as the Phi Kappa Delta Fraternity. In answer to a need for wider contacts, the fraternity petitioned Sigma Tau Gamma National, and with cooperation of local authorities was given its present status.

Sigma Tau Gamma fosters activities through national and regional conclaves, chapter visitations, honor key awards for scholarship and activities, a plaque for the most efficient chapter, and a standardized pledge-study course. Each year the fraternity chooses the outstanding senior member as Honor Man.

SUMMARIZING...

This year Pi's activities included two house parties, one employing the timely theme of conscription. At the first professional meeting Dean Whitmyre and Dr. Heiges presented the Activity and Scholarship Awards to Anthony Perfilio and Joseph Orlosky. At the same time Pi Chapter received the Most Efficient Chapter Award for the second year as a result of its perfect score in the objective rating of efficiency. Just before the close of the meeting, Dr. Heiges explained the workings of the Civil Aeronautical Authority.

"Those Good Ole Days" were brought forth by the Alumni at the "Tau" House on Homecoming Day and again at the Interfraternity Dance the brothers renewed acquaintances.

During Christmas vacation Anthony Perfilio, Dan Shearin, and Donald Frischmann travelled to Kansas City, Missouri, to participate in the National Conclave.

In 1916 Phi Sigma Pi was founded in Warrensburg, Missouri, on the ideals of knowledge, training, and fellowship. Eta chapter was organized from the local Omega Chi in 1929, when college fraternities everywhere in the United States were becoming national organizations. The national order of Phi Sigma Pi now numbers about 5,500 men in all walks of life.

Dr. John Keith, former president of Indiana State Teachers College, was an enthusiastic Phi Sig. After his death Mrs. Keith presented his pin to Eta Chapter to be used as a memorial award. Each year at a formal service the pin is bestowed upon the junior having the highest scholastic average, to be worn by him the succeeding year.

Headed by James McKee the Student Council experienced one of its most productive years.

On November 7, 8, and 9 the Council played host to the annual conference of the Co-operative Association of the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges. The Conference theme was "Every Co-operative Member Participating in His College Program." Dr. E. K. Fretwell, noted educator of Columbia University, attended as guest speaker and advisor. During the course of the business meetings and social gatherings the delegates had the opportunity to not only see the physical plant of the college but also the school as it normally functions.

During Christmas vacation the Council sent George Curley to represent Indiana at the Annual Conference of the National Student Federation of America, and on February 21, 22, and 23 delegates attended the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Student Government at Penn State. Delegates were also sent this spring to the Eastern States Conference at Columbia University. Suggestions on all student problems were brought back by the delegates.

STUDENT CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

The Student Co-operative Association is the group that handles the finances of the student body. Its membership includes sixteen students, elected by the student body, and nine faculty members, selected by the administration.

Officers for the year were: President, Glenn Davis; Vice-President, John Freed; Secretary, Robert McGrew; Treasurer, Paul Woodring.

One of the most important items of the year's work was the drawing up and adoption of the budget for the regular session. The income, derived chiefly from student activity fees and bookroom profits, supports every campus activity that requires funds from the Association in order to function. These include varsity athletics, lectures, concerts, assemblies, conferences, intramural sports, publications, weekly dances, and the College Lodge. The Association operated on a budget of approximately thirty thousand dollars this year.

The group, representative of each of the four classes of the school, strives to the greatest extent to bring to the students the most varied, justifiable, and beneficial extra-curricular program possible.

The Men's Student League, which is made up of all men students enrolled in the College, is organized for the purpose of co-operating with the administrative authorities of the College to promote personal and group responsibility toward the guidance and regulation of the affairs and duties of men students.

Two representatives from the Senior, Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes, plus the Dean of Men, an ex-officio member, comprise the Executive Board of the League, which acts as a governing body to which all problems affecting men students as a whole, are brought. This board chooses its own president, who selects committees for the various affairs arising during the school year.

One of the most important parts of the work of the League is the enforcement of freshman customs. The Sophomore Tribunal, selected from the League, and composed of five men of the Sophomore Class meets to decide upon rules for the customs period and to mete out punishment to refractory Freshmen.

RESIDENT WOMEN'S LEAGUE

All boarding women comprise the membership of the Resident Women's League, organized for the purpose of promoting socialization and co-operation with faculty and administration.

In order that work may be done expeditiously, matters concerning dormitory regulations are taken care of by the League Council, which consists of officers and representatives from various sections of the dormitories. The Advisory Board, members of which are chosen according to classes, strives to develop a friendly feeling among resident and non-resident women students. The work of the League Council and the Advisory Board is closely correlated. The Council refers suggestions made by hall groups to the Board; the Board takes action, proposing ways to deal with various situations.

Among the various activities the League sponsored was a party in September for all freshmen.

The officers of the League Council are: Dorothy Karabinus, President; Dolores Quinn, Vice-President; and Martha Brewer, Secretary. The Advisory Board officers are Elizabeth Kelly, President; Gwen Griffith, Vice-President; and Virginia Pollock, Secretary.

Most recent addition to the campus organization roster is the Central Treasury which was set up to take care of the rising need for a centralized system of inter-school accounting. The Board of Trustees approved the objectives of securing uniformity in accounting records, establishing continuity between business officers and their successors, affording systematic methods for handling business transactions, and assisting in keeping their activities on a sound basis. With the consent and approval of the Board Dr. Clinton M. File was named Central Treasurer by Dr. King.

All funds of organizations are deposited in a central fund against which checks are written. The Central Treasury thus renders banking services to organizations.

This system provides that auditing services will be available to members at all times. It further provides that it will facilitate the internal management of organizations, giving students official business procedure conforming to modern procedures. Small service charges borne by each member take care of the direct expenses of the Treasury.

PARTICIPATION COMMITTEE

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Committee on Student Participation in College Management is to study existing conditions and to recommend methods for eventually achieving a maximum of student participation in college management.

The committee includes five faculty members and seven students, the latter elected from the various departments and the Student Council. It is hoped that by the trial-and-error method the best will evolve, thereby increasing student participation. The Committee does not make final decisions: they are left to the students.

In the organization of the Assembly Committee, the suggestions of the Student Participation in College Management were followed.

A representative was selected from each of the six departments and the Student Council. Dr. Ralph Heiges was the faculty chairman of the Committee and meetings were held to plan the programs. Members aided in arranging and presenting some programs. Representatives of the community participated and there were presentations by the departments. Not the least part of the weekly assembly was the devotional exercise.

WOMEN'S NON-RESIDENT LEAGUE

MEN'S NON-RESIDENT LEAGUE

The Non-Resident League was organized to bring together women students commuting from Indiana and neighboring towns. The League has gradually, through the years of its existence, gained recognition on the campus.

Each month the Non-Resident women held a tea in the Activities Cottage using an appropriate seasonal theme. The annual outing, to which the Non-Resident Men were invited, was held November 22 at the Lodge.

The officers were: President, Grace Walker; Vice-President, Ella Margaret Anderson; Secretary, Jane Beck; and Treasurer, Anne Pezzuti.

The organization of the Men's Non-Resident Student League is rapidly taking its place among other college organizations.

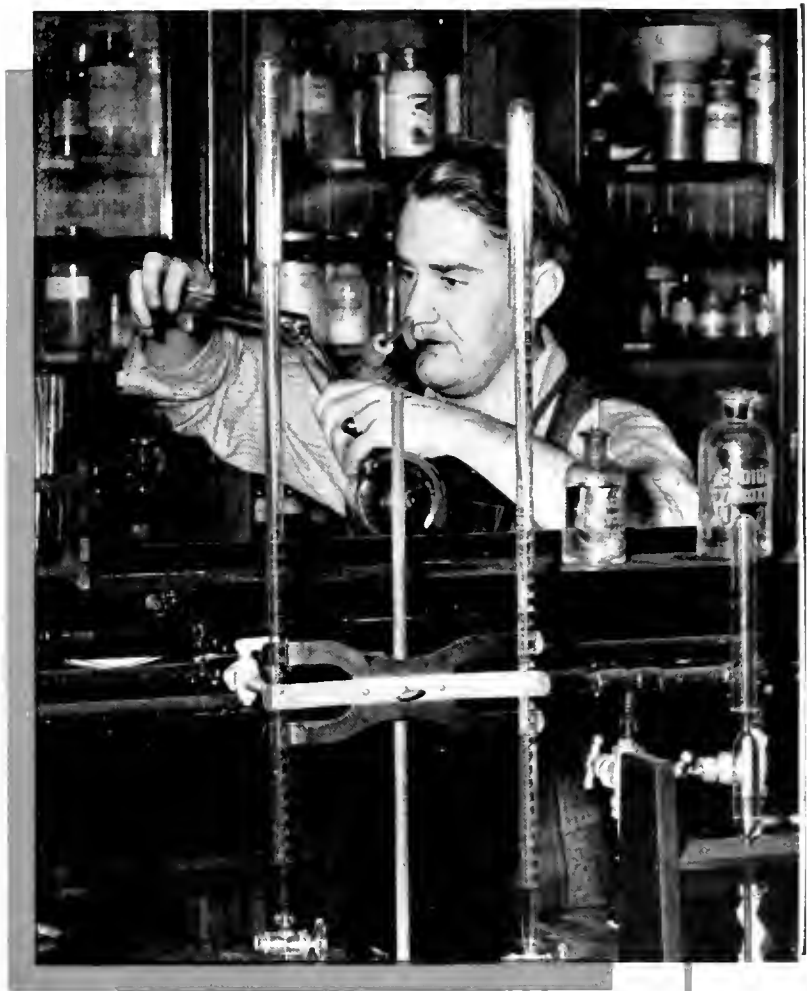

During the first semester the commuting women invited the League to an outing held at the School Lodge, and between semesters non-resident students held a party in Recreation Hall. Also during the second semester the League jointly held various parties. The purpose of these parties are to promote the aims of the organization: campus recognition, promote social contact, inspire friendship, good will, and co-operation.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association has successfully fulfilled its purpose of promoting friendship among the students by correlating their religion with their college lives.

Spiritual Life Week, which was sponsored jointly by the Y.W. and Y.M. from January 26 through February 1, featured several guest speakers. Opportunities for student conferences were offered. Some of this group's other activities this year were the steak fry at the College Lodge, activity nights in the gym, and many discussions on campus and world problems.

Y. W. C. A.

"Our Ideals," the 1940-41 theme of the Y.W.C.A., was presented in its personal, social, and religious phases. Impressive events were the Candlelight and White Gift Carol Sing services. Weekly devotions were held at the Monday Morning Watch Services and the Thanksgiving and Easter services. The Mardi Gras party, Lodge outing, Palm Beach party, and frequent teas entertained members.

Increased co-operation existed between the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. Both organizations made Spiritual Life Week, the Tea Dance, and Armistice service successful.

Each month a steering committee guided the month's activities. The club officers were: President, Clarence Ebner; Vice-President, Pauline Whitfield; Secretary, Martha Scherer; and Treasurer, Ruth Pringle. The faculty sponsor was Miss Lola Beelar.

Organized under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, the International Relations Club is one of approximately eight hundred similar clubs in colleges and universities throughout the world. It is a nonpartisan group, established to give interested students an opportunity to discuss and become acquainted with different international issues and to build a better understanding among nations.

In addition to the regular meetings, the club sponsored open forums each month for all students and faculty members.

Through the Student Co-operative Association the organization sent four delegates, Mary Helen Wardlaw, Doris Letzler, Albert Hovanec, and James McKee, to the Middle Atlantic I. R. C. Conference at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. These delegates were privileged to hear and discuss problems concerning the Far East, South America, Europe, and the United States. The chairmen of the various delegations voted to hold the next conference in 1941 at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CONFERENCE ON GOVERNMENT

The Intercollegiate Conference on Government is held annually at the Penn-Harris Hotel in Harrisburg. Representatives from all the larger colleges in the state gather at the capitol to study problems of national, state, and local government.

At Indiana any student interested in the organization is given an opportunity to become a member. Meetings are held twice a month throughout the first semester at the end of which everyone is given a rigid test and an oral tryout before several faculty members. Those who compile the highest number of points are chosen to represent the College and begin immediately to prepare specific measures for presentation at the Conference. Students who are selected as Indiana's representatives at the Conference gain such distinction only after long hours of studying government problems and planning.

This year Indiana sent a group of twenty to Harrisburg where it participated in the Model Assembly. C. M. Johnson of the Social Studies Department sponsors the Indiana unit.

Ger Rune, the local chapter, has its name, ritual, and nomenclature based upon the Anglo-Saxon culture. Admission is by original manuscript submitted anonymously. Since the time of its admission in 1930, Ger has become one of the most active runes. It annually publishes Scroll, in which the best of the past year's literary output is published. This magazine is widely distributed on the Indiana campus.

Quill's national organ is Parchment in which are published manuscripts submitted by the fifteen runes and undergraduates from colleges throughout the nation.

In December, at Mrs. Macdonald's house, pledges were initiated into full membership.

Officers for the year were: Chancellor, Charlotte Stidham; Vice-Chancellor, Mrs. Helen F. Egleston; Warden of the Purse, Julian Goldman; Scribe, Elisabeth Gosnell; Co-sponsors, Mrs. Helen F. Egleston and Mrs. Louise Anderson Macdonald.

THE 1941 OAK

In keeping with the precedents set by past editors with respect to layout, design, photography, and student appeal, the Staff of the 1941 Oak has endeavored to create a book which will not merely meet the standards of yearbook critics but, more important, will find favor among the administration, faculty, and student body.

With this latter aim well in mind, the Staff has worked to produce an artistic and appealing annual, one that will show in a tangible way the campus as it has existed and functioned during the past year.

This year's staff is grateful to Mrs. Helen F. Eggleton, Editorial Adviser; Clinton M. File, Financial Adviser; Don Young of the Pontiac Electrotpe and Engraving Company; H. B. Weaver of the Pittsburgh Printing Company; Carl Douglass, contracted photographer for the yearbook; Elmer Daiglo, special photographer; and Merle Agnello, Indiana Evening Gazette photographer, for their kind help in producing the 1941 Oak.

The INDIANA PENN

Financed by the Student Co-operative Association, the Indiana Penn is designed to express and reflect the opinions of the students of the College. In the second place, it serves as a record of the activities of the College. Currently it carries a kaleidoscopic picture of all the happenings during the week: the large and small, the ridiculous and the sublime, the commuter and the boarder, the non-fraternity and the fraternity. The Penn conducts an active exchange system with teachers colleges, liberal arts colleges, high schools, and universities in several states.

For several years representatives from the staff have gone to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's annual meeting in New York, returning with fresh ideas and enthusiasms.

The staff of the Penn is selected from interested students who volunteer their services because they are interested in journalism. An effort is made to start promising freshmen so that they might rise to higher positions as they gain in experience and amount of service.

The Editors-in-Chief selected by the Publications Committee were Reed Calhoun, first semester, and M. Betty Gosnell, second semester. A second semester innovation was the appointment of a salaried assistant editor. Ruth Knowles was faculty adviser while Clinton M. File acted as financial adviser and Mabel Shouse as typing adviser.

Stage

ON THE

Helen Jepson

The highlight of Indiana's feature presentations was the appearance of Miss Helen Jepson, a leading soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company. After visiting on the campus for several days, the singer presented a beautifully varied program including arias by Verdi, Massenet, Gounod, German leaders by Wolf, and selections by modern composers. Truly deserving of the name, Glamour Girl of grand opera, Miss Jepson thrilled her audience from her first selection to the last note of her final encore.

STAGE

H. R. Knickerbocker

The famous foreign news correspondent, H. R. Knickerbocker, addressed a capacity audience on the timely subject, A Ringside of History. Having covered such outstanding events as the Italian-Ethiopian War, the Spanish civil war, and the Chino-Japanese trouble, the speaker was able to give a vivid picture of the world of today and what it may mean tomorrow. Mr. Knickerbocker, being a stern advocate of American victory, stated that the best way for the United States to win is by helping Britain in every possible way.

Jimmy Stewart

One of Indiana's most attractive stage features this year—particularly from the feminine viewpoint—was the appearance of Jimmy Stewart, screen star and Academy Award winner. Collaborating with his hometown buddies, Bill Neff, magician, and "Dutch" Campbell, musician, Mr. Stewart performed in true Hollywood fashion.

The Burning Altar, Thanksgiving presentation by the Y.W.C.A.

Two Indiana boys meet Jimmy Stewart, Hollywood star and Academy Award winner.

"The Burning Altar"

Under the sponsorship of Miss Murdock, the Y.W.C.A. gave its seasonal production of Ethel G. Rockwell's The Burning Altar. This year the pageant players showed a fuller development in the meaning and interpretation of the religious Thanksgiving tableaux. From the Earliest People to the Hebrews, the Greeks, the Pilgrims and finally to the World Today, the men of the Times heard their call in their own life and answered to the World, giving their own worship and loyalty.

"Passing of the Third Floor Back"

For its second feature the Leonard Literary Society presented Jerome K. Jerome's The Passing of the Third Floor Back. This English play, described by many as an "idle fancy," proved to be interesting and entertaining. Throughout the performance the psychological feeling of the theme, "I will seek thy good," was retained. As the play progressed the Passerby and his queer group of friends continuously grew in character until they finally achieved the ultimate perfection of body and soul.

Jane Cowl

Jane Cowl, first lady of the American stage, gave a brilliant lecture-recital on The Theatre on October 7, at 8:15 o'clock. The famous actress augmented her lecture by anecdotes and excerpts from several of her most outstanding successes, including Romeo and Juliet, Anthony and Cleopatra, and Smilin' Through. Miss Cowl gave excellent advice for future campus dramatic presentations.

Littlefield Ballet

Catherine Littlefield and her Ballet gave a type of program foreign to the Indiana campus since 1936 when Ted Shawn presented his ensemble of men dancers. The synchronization and grace of the Ballet beautifully blended the dancers into a single unit that depicted the graceful "Aurora's Wedding," the old-style "Barn Dance," and the ultra-modern "Cafe Society."

John Ghrist becomes hysterical in a scene from What a Life

"What a Life"

The modern adolescent character, Henry Aldrich of radio fame, was portrayed on the stage of Indiana's new auditorium when the Leonard Literary Society presented Clifford Goldsmith's current play success, What a Life. Under the direction of Miss Sprowls the cast gave the comedy the delicate touch so often overlooked when students attempt comedy roles.

LEONARD LITERARY SOCIETY

Through Indiana's years, literary and dramatic talent of a professional character found its way more and more to our students on account of the active efforts of Jane E. Leonard who was Preceptress of the College for forty-nine years. Her portrait now hangs in North Hall of John Sutton. In memory of this pioneer in education we have Leonard Literary Society.

The organization has brought to the campus this year a top-flight artist from Hollywood and one from Broadway. It has from its own Theatre Workshop presented three full-evening plays and many one acts. These one-acts along with the full-length plays gave a beginning experience to many who might never otherwise have had opportunity to engage in dramatics.

The workshop builds hours of service in theatre experience for English majors, especially juniors and seniors. It also includes seniors from other departments.

Music

MUSIC AT INDIANA

.. CHARACTERIZED BY TALENTED VARIETY

IRVING CHEYETTE
Director of Music Department

Dr. Irving Cheyette came to Indiana as head of the Music Department in 1938 shortly after receiving his Doctor of Education degrees.

He was born in New York soon after the turn of the present century. While in high school he studied the clarinet and cello. After graduation he studied law, acting, playwriting, and advertising, but finally decided upon music. Dr. Cheyette attended the Julliard School of Music and Columbia University principally.

The Choir of eighty voices is one of the largest music units on our campus. It is directed by Mary H. Muldowney. It participated in a Christmas broadcast and presented the Christmas Nativity program. In March this group appeared at Carnegie Hall, Pittsburgh. A sacred Choral Concert in the local Presbyterian church and the annual Music Festival Program in our auditorium were two features. Participation in assemblies and other campus concerts were equally important.

COLLEGE CHOIR

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of James Remley, is open to all college men. Their fine work was displayed at the Annual Christmas Dinner, music for one service during Spiritual Life Week, P. T. A. meetings in local schools, school broadcasts, the Spring Music Festival, and other off-campus events.

The Junior Choir is an organization in itself this year, and is directed by James Remley. It is a mixed group of approximately sixty voices. Besides its laboratory work this organization participated in the Christmas Program, Spiritual Life Week, College assembly programs, and concerts on and off the campus.

A girls' organization directed by Aagot K. M. Borge, the Vesper Choir is made up of students of the Music Department together with a limited number of other girls. Their work is largely a capella. Participation in Sunday vesper services marked their activities.

STRING QUARTET

The String Quartet is used largely as a laboratory for the study of quartet style and quartet literature. They played for a Sunday evening religious service, an assembly program, the town College Club, and for faculty-student recitals in the Music Department.

The College Symphony Orchestra, like several other music units, is open to all students. The repertoire of the orchestra includes the works of our classic, romantic, and contemporary composers. Lawrence C. Stitt wields the baton. This group participated in special college programs, public recitals, and radio broadcasts. It is equally important insofar as laboratory work is concerned.

COLLEGE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

WOODWIND QUINTET

The College Woodwind Quintet, under the direction of Lawrence Stitt, appeared in the special Music Department assembly and also in several off-campus programs. Like other Music Department units, this group is valuable for group performance of manuscript transcriptions for the quintet.

Directed by Irving Cheyette the Concert Band is open to all interested students. The work of this organization can be seen in the assemblies, commencement exercises, spring concerts and radio broadcasts. "American Music in the American Schools" served as the theme of their principal radio broadcast this year. This group also serves as a laboratory to survey literature for junior and senior high schools.

CONCERT BAND

The MARCHING BAND

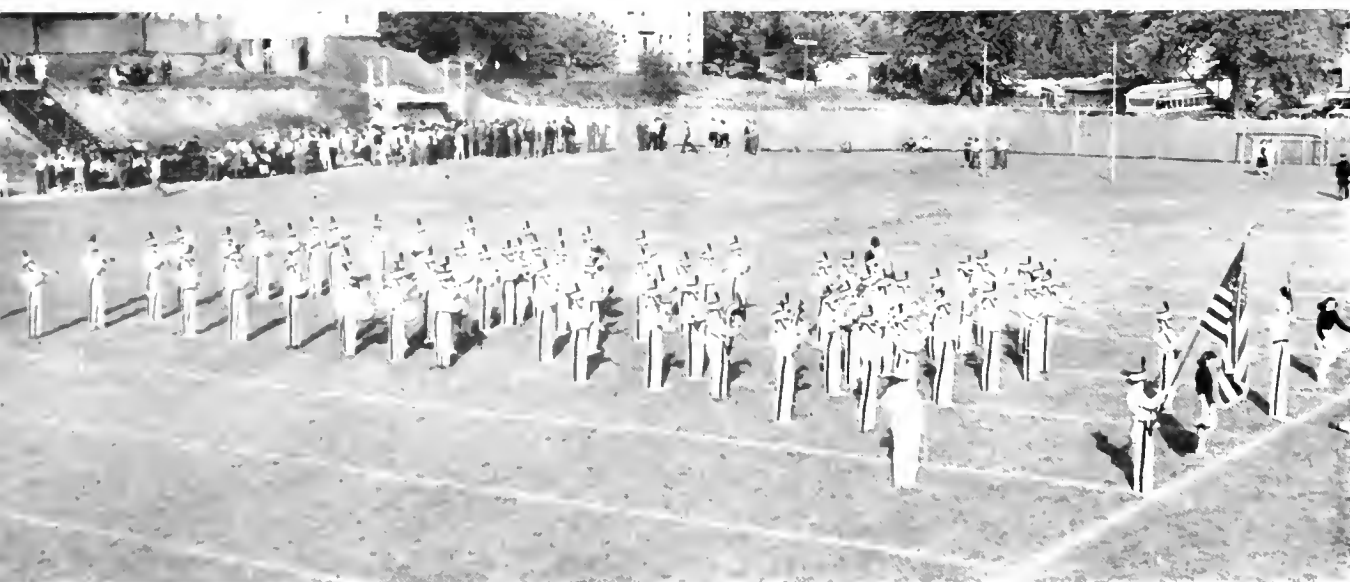

Over his shoulder the Drum Major checks on maneuvers

Under the direction of Irving Cheyette the Marching Band has come to be recognized as one of the outstanding music units.

In colorful uniforms of West Point gray trimmed with red and a cadet hat complete with red plume they made an impressive sight on the gridiron during our home games.

On two occasions contingents of band members, at their own expense, followed the team to the games abroad.

This organization participated in community-sponsored parades and patriotic programs. It was also valuable in teaching students of the department the techniques of handling a maneuvering band on the football field.

CHEERLEADERS

The work of the cheerleaders is to build up the spirit of the student body at the athletic events, and thereby serve as a stimulus for the team.

Close co-operation between the students and cheerleaders was particularly noted this year, and probably played an important part in the many victories.

Cheerleaders for the past season were Fred Craft, Harry Grandinett, Leahmon Cravener, and Jay Smith, head cheerleader.

Indiana Chalks Up Second Undefeated Season Since 1934; Tie Mars Record

Under the tutelage of Coaches Miller, Timmons, Prugh and Ewing and with a wealth of promising material on hand, the 1940 Indiana football aggregation recorded the second undefeated season of the school's history since 1934. The team also won the 1940 mythical state teachers college championship.

A strong, untiring, and dependable line averaging about 180 pounds was responsible for cutting down every serious threat of the opposition. The players who made up this forward wall were: Balionis, Harkleroad, Hovanec, Sybinsky, Commella, Brant, Stokes, DiMauro, and Hohn.

The stars of the team included Freddy Ruthko, a smashing line-plunger; Don Schwing, the outstanding passer and leading scorer; and the extra-point expert, Gene Schmucker. However, the freshmen, Cutler, Eckland, Corey, Romeo, Kish, Finn, and Thull, were standouts and deserve recognition

Indians Rally To Topple Lock Haven Eleven, 16-6

A sensational last-quarter rally by the Indians upset Lock Haven's eleven and started the Millermen on their championship drive with a 16-to-6 score.

Indiana was trailing at the half-time period, 6-to-0. But during the last period fireworks Ruthko's brilliant line plunges led to the first touchdown while Corey's left-end run of 55 yards was responsible for the second one. Sybinsky scored a safety, and Schmucker booted the extra point.

Bloomsburg Is Humbled By Millermen Squad, 33-0

Bloomsburg was the second victim of the fighting Indians. The locals scored each period, giving them a 14-to-0 lead at the half and Schwing scored the first touch-down and Balionis kicked the extra point. With the help of Ruthko's advances Cutler went around right end to score in the second period. Schwing scored again in the third period on a 26-yard run, and Hill and Ecklund registered touch-downs in the final period.

Indiana Continues Drive, Vanquishes Edinboro, 25-0

Still on the warpath the Indians, playing their first game away from home, scalped Edinboro for the third straight victory. Again the boys faced little opposition as they scored every period, garnering 18 first downs to Edinboro's one.

Slippery Rock Bows To Millermen by 15-6 Score

A strong and determined Indiana team travelled to Slippery Rock to chalk up the Indians' fourth victory. This game made local history in that it was the first time the Millermen defeated the Rockets on the latter's field.

The favored Slippery Rock squad was crippled as they tried repeatedly to break the strong front line of the Millermen. Schwing tallied twice and Schmucker added an extra point to give the Indians a 15-to-6 victory.

Homecoming Throng Sees Mansfield Eleven Fall 12-0

The first real test of the season came against the heavy Mansfield squad before a Homecoming crowd of 3000. Possibly the score would have been larger had not Coach Miller substituted freely with reserve material.

In the first period Schwing dodged and shifted his way for forty yards to score Indiana's first touchdown. A reverse from Cutler to Corey saw Corey race around right end for the second score in the third period.

Clarion took advantage of Indiana's fumbles and led 12-to-0 at the half. In the third period Harkleroad blocked a Clarion punt and pounced on it as it rolled over the end zone. Schmucker kicked the extra point. After a long 80-yard drive and on the final play of the fourth period the Indians won the game by virtue of a lateral from Thull to Hovancec.

Shippensburg Surprises Indiana with Scoreless Tie

The unpredictable Shippensburg team marred a perfect record for the local gridiron stars. The Red and Slaters were up against a much heavier team and were handicapped by a bitter cold wind, an unfortunate number of fumbles, and several Shippensburg threats to score.

However, the locals were recognized as the mythical champions since the other title contender, Millersville, had but four victories in the teachers college standings as compared to Indiana's seven.

Starting five gathers for "prayer" prior to tipoff

The 1941 Indiana State Teachers College basketball team, handled for the second season by Coach Timmons, faced an 18-game schedule with opponents such as St. Vincent, Westminster, California, Lock Haven, Slippery Rock, Clarion, Bloomsburg, St. Francis, Edinboro, Shippensburg, and Millersville. The season started out with a bang as the Indians won eight of their first nine games. The climax of this attack was a spectacular 38-to-37 victory over Westminster College, a quintet that ended the 1941 season with only this defeat and took part in the fourth annual Metropolitan Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden, New York City.

After this Westminster conquest the Indians hit an unexplainable slump and lost seven of the remaining nine games to finish the season with 10 wins and 8 losses for a percentage of .556.

In the mythical state teachers college conference the local forces held a domineering position at the outset but ended the year in sixth place with seven wins against six losses.

Gene DeMatt, '42, from Hazelton paced the Timmons' forces as captain and high scorer of the year. In 17 games he scored 48 field goals and 39 fouls for a total of 135 points—an average of eight per game. Sam Costantino playing his last year as center ran up a total of 115 points in 16 games. Paul Deane, '44, the most outstanding freshman of the year, scored 105 points at the guard position for third place honors. Other members in order of total scoring that made up the rest of the squad include Hogg, who was handicapped a short time by illness, Cicero, Brant, Moyer, Miller, Commella, Wagner, Wells, Walker, McNaughton, Santangelo and Buchanan.

The 1941 Indiana basketball season was opened impressively with a victory at St. Vincent College on December 14. The local cagers took a 24-14 lead at the halftime and increased it from period to period.

Paul Deane came to the spotlight to capture scoring honors for the Indiana five with 11 points as the locals lost to a very strong Westminster representative.

Coach Timmons' cagers started the new year with a bang and overpowered California Teachers in the season's third game, January 11. The Indians, paced by DeMatt and Hogg who together scored 26 points, took the lead in the second period.

The Indiana quintet scored its third win in four starts in the first home game of the season by defeating Lock Haven, 55-37. Never were the locals seriously threatened and even the reserves scored easily on the opponents in the last quarter.

Indiana continued their winning way by walloping the St. Vincent quintet for the second time, 67-38. This game showed fine offensive and defensive

A last quarter rally gave Indiana its fourth straight victory of the year. The team defeated a stubborn Slippery Rock combination on the opponent's floor, 49-36.

California invaded Indiana to suffer a second defeat at the hands of the Red and Slate. This game gave the locals their sixth win out of seven games and the lead in the mythical teachers college conference. The score read 49-37.

An upset!!! Westminster unbeaten in nine consecutive games met Indiana on the college floor February 4 and lost its first and only game of the season due to a close last minute Indiana rally that brought victory, 38-37.

The Rockets scored an upset over the Indiana hoopmen by outscoring the Timmonsmen in the last half of this home contest. During the third period the score was tied at 35-all when the Rockets took their permanent lead, and scored a 52-45 victory.

Coach Timmons' forces hit the skids emphatically as they dropped their third game to the Bloomsburg team. The opponents led most of the way in this hotly-contested battle.

Deane's long shot in the closing minutes of play saved the second game of this eastern trip at Lock Haven, 42-40. At halftime the locals trailed 22-16 but moved ahead 30-29 in the third period.

Edinboro proved too much for an "off-form" Indiana five and gave the locals one of its worst defeats of the season, 42-32. Indiana led until the second period.

The sixth defeat of the season took place at Clarion for Indiana. The second team started and held a commanding lead until the last quarter when Clarion scored 13 points to the locals' three, and were victorious 33-31.

A one-point margin, 57-56, spelled victory for Indiana as they tackled Shippensburg on the home floor. The Indiana five was made up of four freshmen and a junior, Gene DeMatt.

The Timmonsmen lost another one-point "heartbreaker" to a scrappy Millersville five as the lead changed hands eight times. Victory was in hand for the locals until the last period, when Millersville eked out a 46-45 win.

The 1941 campaign was closed for another year with another one-point defeat on the home floor. What appeared to be an excellent Indiana season ended only as a fair one with ten wins and eight defeats.

The first day out and instructions from Coach Boyts

With veterans Balionis, Sariscak, Sybinsky, Schwing, and McElhoes back, Coach Paul H. Boyts found a baseball aggregation that scored a record of seven wins, four losses, and one tie. The 1940 season saw the Red and Slate participate in the new Tri-State League, made up of St. Vincent, Frostburg, Fairmont, and West Liberty.

The season statistics showed three players ending with batting averages better than .300. Pitchers Reams and McElhoes had a .375 and .368 average, respectively, while First Baseman Ruthko ended with a .342 average. McElhoes and Reams garnered the pitching honors with three wins and one loss each.

In the first game of the season the Indians were humbled by St. Vincent, 12-4. Sariscak followed with a three-hit masterpiece against Duquesne but Indiana lost, 3-0.

Reams won his first game by pitching a seven-hit contest against the Pitt Panthers, 7-6, while Mansfield battled the Indians for twelve innings before the game was called with the score deadlocked, 7-7.

On a southern trip the Boytsmen were trimmed 14-4 at the hands of the West Liberty Teachers, but they came back to take a double-header from the Fairmont Teachers, 9-4 and 14-4, with McElhoes victorious in both melees.

When Frostburg came to Indiana, the Boytsmen administered a stinging 9-1 defeat to them. Lock Haven dropped a close one to Indiana, 5-4, as the Red and Slaters mustered twelve hits.

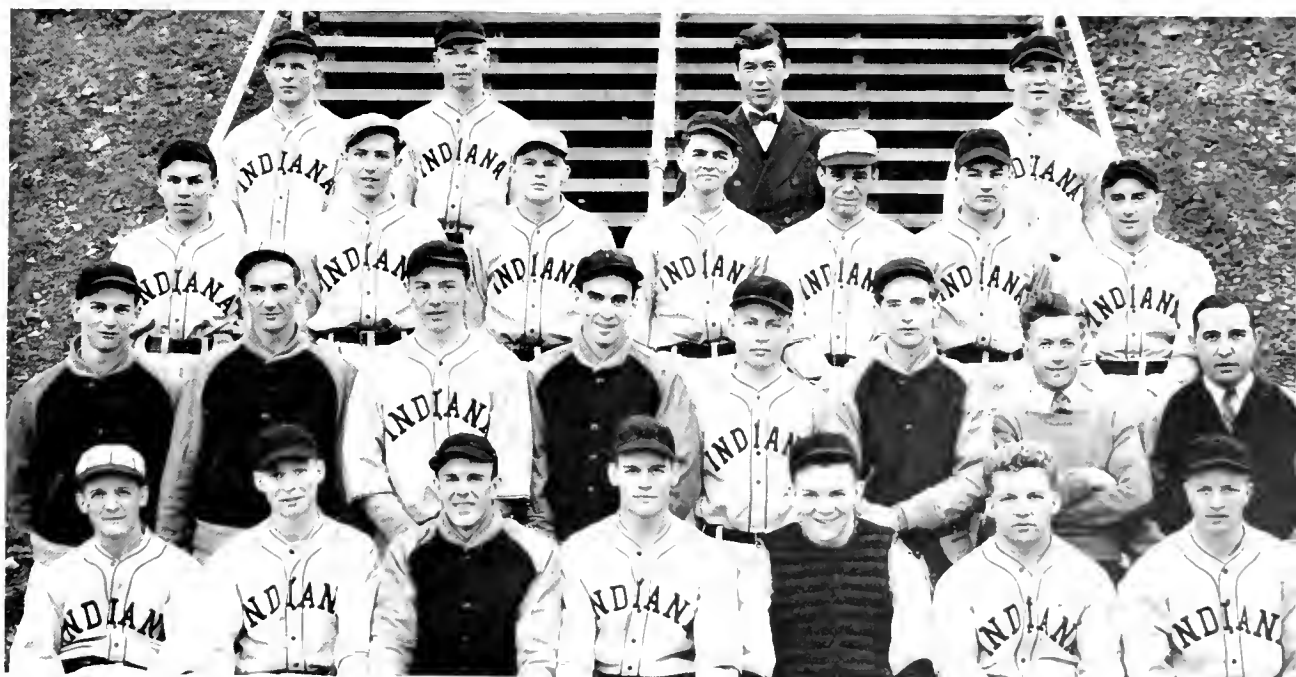

As hosts to West Liberty, Indiana hoped to revenge an earlier 14-4 defeat. The locals came through with the aid of Sariscak's brilliant mound work to upset the West Virginians, 8-7. Another revenge was realized when the Boytsmen beat Duquesne's nine, 12-9.

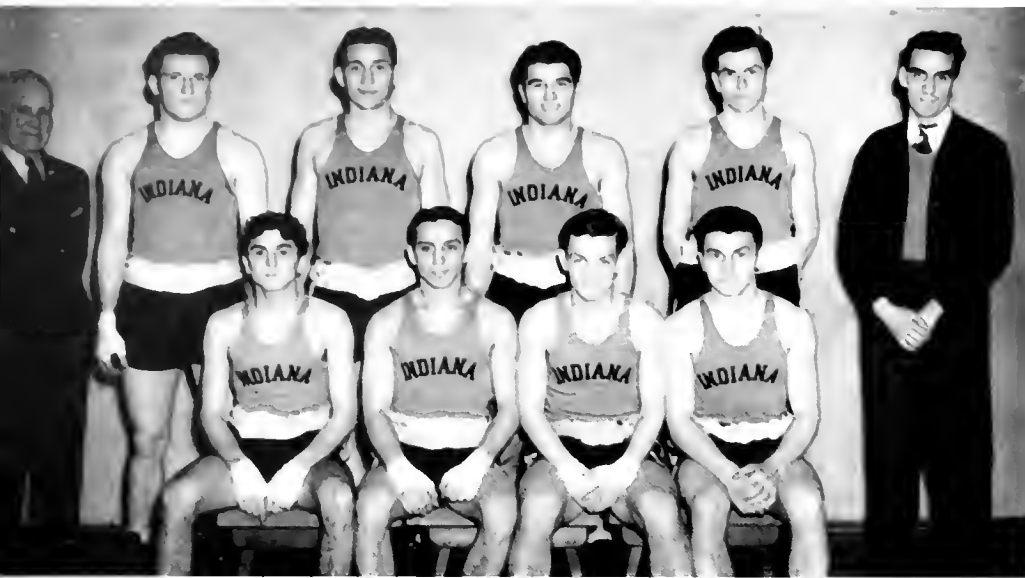

In the final game, the Indians dropped a light-hitting contest to the Shippensburg Teachers, 13-7, as McElhoes experienced his first setback.

Led by Captain Frankie Evanko and Freshman Nick Kish, the Indiana State Teachers College's second varsity boxing team closed a successful three-contest card with one victory, one loss, and one tie. Franklin Penn, one of the outstanding amateur boxers in the Philadelphia district, assisted Mr. Prugh in coaching duties.

Three years ago boxing was inaugurated in the college's intramural program; last year it was made a varsity sport. This year the team met and lost to one of the top-ranking teams of the East, Western Maryland College, 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 $\frac{1}{2}$. Two other matches both with Lock Haven gave Indiana a 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ victory and a 4 to 4 tie.

Captain Evanko boasts a season's record of one TKO and two decisions while Kish holds three decisions for undefeated seasons. Other members of the squad were Telerico, Shuster, Husak, Grandinett, Cochrane, Ruthko, and Marley.

On March 27-29 Evanko and Chihon represented Indiana at the National Collegiate Athletic Association Boxing tournament at Penn State.

WRESTLING

Intercollegiate wrestling was revived at Indiana last year after a dormant period of five years. This year under the tutelage of Coach Miller the team completed a .333 season with two wins and four losses. The matmen first lost to Lock Haven, the state champions, 3 to 27; conquered Edinboro, 20 to 17; were defeated again by Lock Haven, 11 to 21; lost the fourth match to Clarion, 16 to 20; were beaten by Kent State, 8 to 24; and shaded Clarion, 17 to 16. Johnny Smith, captain of the squad, finished the season undefeated for the second consecutive year.

The most outstanding achievement of the current season was the team's excellent showing at the Second Annual State Teacher College Wrestling Tournament held at Lock Haven, Pa., March 7 and 8. The local grapplers tallied 16 points to place third in the tournament; Johnny Smith won his second consecutive state title in the 128 lb. class; Pete DeFazio and Don Corey placed second in the 121 lb. and 175 lb. divisions, respectively; and Paul Nealer finished third in the 145 lb. class.

Coach Prugh's 1940 tennis squad experienced its most successful season since tennis was made a varsity sport in 1934. The squad was victorious in six of its seven matches while inclement weather forced cancellations with Mansfield, Lock Haven, and Bloomsburg.

The team showed four veterans, Killen, Bruno, Motovich, and Jamison, aided by Garber, Marley, and Hogg. Marley and Garber were standouts as they won every one of their matches. Marley went one step better by completing the season without losing a single set.

The court season opened at Shippensburg where the Indians took their initial scalp, 8-1. Duquesne University was the second victim, 8-1. St. Vincent College and California Teachers were next, 9-0 and 7-2, respectively. Clarion went down for the fifth straight triumph, 6-0. Slippery Rock lost 8-1 for the first home match.

The Pitt Panthers marred a perfect season in a match that had been postponed earlier in the season. Marley and Garber won the singles and Hogg-Jamison took the doubles but the score ended in Pitt's favor, 6-3.

TRACK

Track was revived in the spring of 1940 after a lapse of approximately ten years. Past track history at Indiana is one of marked success against outstanding teams in 1925-1926. During these years the college was represented at the Penn Relays and was victorious in the Two-Mile Relay Race for Teachers Colleges of the United States.

Thirty-five men answered Coach Timmons' call for track candidates last spring. Fifteen of these reporting candidates held no previous track experience. Daily workouts were conducted on an informal basis with plans of putting track on a varsity basis this year.

Eliminations were held last May in order to round out a squad to represent Indiana at the Tri-State Inter-Collegiate track meet at Geneva College, where the Timmons-tutored boys made a good showing despite the handicaps connected with an initial season.

Events open to candidates were: 100, 220, 440, half-mile, mile, and two-mile runs; low and high hurdles; javelin throw, weights, pole vault, discus throw, and relay team.

More emphasis is to be placed on track in coming years.

MEN'S VARSITY "I" CLUB

The Men's Varsity "I" Club consists of members having earned their varsity letter in any one of the major sports at Indiana.

Two of the main purposes of the club are to provide loans for its athletes and to foster goodwill with our visiting opponents.

The club also had many social contacts during the year. At a winter outing held at the School Lodge, eleven faculty members were initiated as honorary members of the club.

As a finale for the season, the club sponsored a "Varsity Vaudeville Show."

WOMEN'S VARSITY "I" CLUB

The Women's Varsity "I" Club consists of girls who have earned 1000 points by active participation in the Women's Athletic Association. It is recognized as an honorary athletic association.

The three-fold purpose of the organization is to continue social contacts with all girls interested in athletics, to further the athletic program, and to retain ideals and enjoyment in athletic participation.

The Women's Varsity "I" collaborates with the Women's Athletic Association in staging the annual play day.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

National De-Fence Girls

The Women's Athletic Association, the basic club of all women's sports, was organized to foster interest and skill in recreational activities, as well as to develop habits of good-sportsmanship and fair play. Since membership is automatically open to all girls at Indiana, the W.A.A. attempts to attain the whole-hearted support and co-operation of those taking active part.

Because of the decided opposition to all forms of inter-scholastic games which exploit the play impulse and destroy human values, a well-rounded intramural program directed by the Athletic Council has been provided. The tournaments included field hockey, volleyball, basketball, mushball, archery, and individual meets such as swimming, ping-pong, tennis, shuffleboard, and fencing. Besides the regular games played every Monday evening and Friday afternoon, play nights are frequently held throughout the year. By participation in the various activities and by holding an athletic office, points for winning a Varsity "I" can be earned.

The Women's Athletic Council consists of Lena Ellenberger, Lois Teeter, Ruth Pringle, Helen Shaffer, Fay Miller, Freda Bodendorfer, and Ruth Jordan.

CHAMPS

Field hockey, the initial intramural tournament of the year, proved to be extremely successful among the women athletes. Out of six teams that entered the tournament, the Sophomore Flashes were victorious over every group and received the winner's award for the season.

Volleyball is the most popular of all women sports activities. With over sixty girls participating in the tournament, it was inevitable many interesting competitive games would necessarily result. The junior Whiz-Banger team was acclaimed the champions by beating all other groups.

Basketball season always brings hotly-contested games showing some of the keenest rivalry and competition in the intramural program. The exciting games created many thrills and spills, but the greatest up-set came when the Cherokee team took over each of the other ten.

Mr. G. G. Hill coaches the Rifle Club, which this year boasted a membership of about twenty girls. The club is affiliated with the National Rifle Association. Those members who meet the standards set up by the national organization receive awards, either medals or brassards.

Realizing the importance and advisability of athletic training for all future teachers, the Physical Education Department has developed one of the most comprehensive intramural programs among the state teachers colleges of Pennsylvania.

The Men's Intramural Committee grew out of the need for supervision and direction of intramural activities. Two senior managers chosen by the Athletic Council assist Paul H. Boyts in furthering this work. Each is given an intramural service award, the intramural jacket.

The chief aims of the program are: providing athletics for present enjoyment; teaching and training students in athletic activities; developing habits of good sportsmanship and fair play; understanding the game so as to get greater enjoyment from participating in and watching the game; preparing students to organize and promote intramural sports in the public schools.

Approximately seventy-five per cent of the men enrolled take part in intramurals although no awards are given for individual sports. Added to the program recently was an Intramural Sports Day. The Intramural Departments of California, Clarion, Indiana, and Slippery Rock have initiated plans to hold a quadrangular sports day.

INTRAMURAL

Indiana's intramural sports program that dates back to the Fall of 1932 is under the supervision of Paul H. Boyts of the Geography Department. This feature of the Physical Education Department was developed in recognition of the need of athletic training for all future teachers. Assisting Mr. Boyts are four students—two senior managers and two assistant managers. Each manager serves two semesters after which he receives the intramural service award, the intramural jacket. The four managers this past year have been Markle DeMezza, Bill Lee, Fred Timm and Stanley Kochin.

Each year three members of the senior class who have been most active in intramurals and who pass the required test are awarded intramural jackets. Others are presented official intramural emblems or efficiency awards.

The Travelers won the championship of the 1940 intramural softball tournament last Spring. Their victory marked the second consecutive year they have won the tourney. This year's volleyball tourney was won by the Phi Sigma Pi fraternity combination.

The annual basketball series saw the championship go to the Y.M.C.A. for the second consecutive year only after they defeated the Commuters' quintet 23-22 in the last game of a three-game playoff.

The foul-shooting contest resulted in a tie for first place between Leroy Moyer and Bill Buchanan, both of whom completed 41 out of 50. Constantino and McElhoes tied for second place with 40 out of 50.

The 1941 Ping-Pong tournament was won by Clair Wagner.

WINTER

The Winter Sports Club of Indiana State Teachers College was organized during the winter of 1938-39 as part of the intramural sports program by Paul Boyts, its present sponsor. The Club has grown into one of the largest organizations on the campus. The membership for the 1940-41 season numbers over four hundred students and faculty.

The purpose of the Club is to encourage its members to engage in healthful outdoor activities. The College Lodge is the site of most of its meetings. Each Friday night and Saturday afternoon, weather conditions permitting, the Club members charter the college bus and travel to the Lodge for skiing, snobogganing, and tobogganing.

SPORTS

Other events included several trips to the Shaffer Ice Palace in Johnstown to witness college hockey games, after which skating was enjoyed by the groups. Several trips were made to the outdoor artificial rink at Greensburg. A trip to the famous winter sports center at Cooks Forest was also taken.

Some of the members participate in hikes through the snow over the college property. Others engage in snow battles, making of snow figures, etc. The Lodge is always available for dancing. (A "juke-box" was rented by the club this season for the use of those who wished to dance between various outdoor activities.) Refreshments were served at all events.
